

W.W. Boisture, Jr. is President of NetJets Inc. He is responsible for NetJets operations in North America and is based at the company's operational headquarters in Columbus, OH. He was most recently Executive Vice President of General Dynamics Aerospace and President of Gulfstream Aerospace where he was a leader in the turnaround and significant growth of that company beginning in 1994. Prior to that he was responsible for British Aerospace Corporate Jets, Butler Aviation and SimuFlite Training International as President of each firm.

Mr. Boisture graduated from the United States Air Force Academy, and subsequently served in training, combat and test flight assignments in fighter aircraft. His decorations include the Distinguished Flying Cross with two Oak Leaf Clusters and 13 Air Medals. He also holds a Masters of Business Administration from the University of New Haven.